Teachers To Meet Monday

Appomattox County Public Schools will open September 7 with an anticipated enrollment of 2340, an increase of 116 pupils over last year. In preparation for the opening, teachers will begin a five-day workshop on Monday, August 30.

Elementary faculties will be concerned with studying ways to individualize instruction, so that each pupil may learn at a rate commensurate with his ability. Reading consultants and supervisors from the State Department of Education will be with the faculties to help with the study.

High School teachers will meet with supervisors from the State Department of Education to continue the evaluation of the high school, begun last spring. Each department will study ways to upgrade the curriculum at the high school level.

The special vocationally-oriented program, begun at the Appomattox Intermediate School last year, will be continued at Appomattox County High School. The program will involve about fifty eighth and ninth grade pupils. This program, which served as a pilot program last year, has been considered one of the most successful in the state.

Under a Title I grant, a new program will begin at Pamplin Elementary School this fall. The program is designed to initiate continuous progress education for the pupils there. Open space instruction will enable teachers to work with small groups of pupils so that provisions can be made for pupils of like achievement levels to work together. Building renovations will provide the physical arrangements necessary to initiate the program. The school will serve as a model school for others in the state with like facilities and pupils.

Fees - Rentals Sept. 2-3 For Primary School

Patrons of Appomattox Primary School will be given an opportunity to pay fees and book rental on September 2 and 3 between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. This method of pre-payment has proven to be most beneficial to both students and school personnel. It allows the teacher the opportunity to begin a full schedule of work on the first day of school since no money is collected in the classrooms. Whenever it is necessary that later payment be made, this is done through the office rather than through the teachers.

The amount for each student is as follows:

$2.50 - instructional materials
$.75 - Weekly Reader
$2.25 - accident insurance (optional)
$6.50 - book rental (first and second year students)
$7.50 - book rental (third year students)
$8.50 - book rental (fourth year students)

Parents are urged to avail themselves of this opportunity to make payment prior to the opening date of school.
